Chinese Tourist Market to Grow Even Bigger

On January 19, the European Union and China jointly commemorated a program to further boost collaborations in the travel and tourism sectors. The EU's goal is to achieve an annual increase in Chinese visitors by 10 percent, equal to at least 1 billion euro a year for the tourism industry. Dubbed as "Ready for China", the initiative is to foster commercial and cultural exchanges between the European Union and China.

The ECTY (EU-China Tourism Year) is funded by EU and involves the European Travel Agency, European Tourism Association and China National Tourism Association. Key objectives are to help every segment of the travel industry to attract and better welcome Chinese travellers.
