Six Senses Hotels and Resorts introduces first city properties

Six Senses Hotels Resorts Spas has refurbished two buildings as part of a remarkable conservation project in Singapore.

"Such unique properties do not come to market often and we are delighted to be working with Satinder Garcha and Harpreet Bedi of Garcha Hotels on this project," said Six Senses Chief Executive Officer Neil Jacobs.

"The buildings will be the last heritage hotels of this quality to be developed in Singapore. Each building has its own distinct personality, but what makes Six Senses Singapore so special is that guests can enjoy all the offerings of both locations plus the neighborhood when staying with us . It's all about community and being part of the rich, local culture of Singapore."
