A Mid-Year Checklist for How to Always Be Ready for a Great New Job

Here are five ways to ensure you're prepared to make the most of a new opportunity.

It's June, the halfway point of the year. Whether your job is going great or going nowhere, right now is an ideal time to think about your career prospects, where you are and where you want to go. As Alec Baldwin's character in the movie "Glengarry Glen Ross" said, "ABC - Always Be Closing" - except in this case, ABC stands for "Always Be Candidating."

The workplace version of ABC means you should consistently think about yourself as a potential job candidate, even if you're not actively looking at all. Situations can change quickly.
