How to Stand Out During a Job Interview

According to Jobvite, 65 percent of recruiters say that the lack of skilled candidates is their biggest obstacle to hiring -- and I completely agree. I was recently hiring for a position at my company, Ramp Ventures, and I was shocked by the poor quality of applicants.

So many people are doing things wrong in the application, interview and overall hiring process. When you're applying for a job, you want to make the best impression possible to show you're the right person to hire. But, if you make simple mistakes or give a bad impression, those issues may cost you the job.

Here are a few of my top tips to be a successful job candidate. Follow my advice, and you're sure to stand out from the crowd and land the job.
